CASUALTIES AS RESULT OF RAID ON ENGLISH COAST TOWNS PLACED AT 110 PERSONS DEAD AND INJURED

Six or Eight German Ships, Including Battle Cruisers and Armored Cruisers, Were Engaged—Wave of Anger Sweeps England Because of Shelling of undefended Towns—German Ships Employed Were Fastest of Enemy's Navy—Many Residents at Breakfast When Attack Was Begun—Rumors That Two German Cruisers Were Sunk Were Not Confirmed—Keen in Disappointment That Enemy Has Eluded Pursuit

By Bulletin Learned Wire.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(11:15 p.m.)—The first time in centuries England has been struck by a foreign foe. A squadron of swift German cruisers swept through the fog last night, and in the early morning they began the bombardment of the English coast. The first place they shelled was Hartlepool, at the mouth of the Tyne. Thirty-five miles seawards and Scarborough, north of a line of coast, were shelled. There were two battle cruisers and an armored cruiser at the attack. The British war fleet, the number of dead at Hartlepool as seven or eight and twenty-two civilians and the wounded fourteen soldiers and fifty civilians.

GERMAN VERSION OF THEIR ATTACK

By Bulletin Learned Wire. BERLIN, Dec. 16.—(via London, Dec. 16, 3 a.m.)—An official announcement issued here says: "A part of our high sea fleet made an attack on the English coast and bombarded the coast towns of Hartlepool, Scarborough and Whitby. Regarding its further course of action, no information can be given."

MAJORITY KILLED WERE CIVILIANS

MIDDLEBOROUGH, Eng., Dec. 16.—(via London, Dec. 16, 3 a.m.)—Latest reports of the killed and wounded as the result of the German naval raid show that at Hartlepool 29 were killed and 50 injured, while at Scarborough 30 were killed and 50 injured. The majority of the victims were civilians. The German ships were in the streets or in the harbor. The German ships were in the streets or in the harbor. The German ships were in the streets or in the harbor.

Official Reports Tell of Attacks on English Coast Towns

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(11:15 p.m.)—The British official press bureau late today issued the following statement from the war office regarding the German raid:

"At 8 a.m. today three enemy ships were sighted off Hartlepool and at 8:15 they commenced a bombardment. The ships appeared to be two battle cruisers and one armored cruiser. The land batteries replied and are reported to have hit and damaged the enemy. At 8:50 the firing ceased and the enemy steamed away. None of our guns were touched. One shell fell in the Royal Engineers' lines and several in the lines of the 18th service battalion of Durham Light Infantry."

The casualties among the troops amounted to seven killed and fourteen wounded. Some damage was done to the town, buildings and gas works being set on fire. During the bombardment, especially in West Hartlepool, the people crowded into the streets and approximately 22 were killed and 50 wounded.

"At the same time a battle cruiser and an armored cruiser appeared off Scarborough and fired about fifty shots, which caused considerable damage and thirteen casualties are reported. "At Whitby two battle cruisers fired some shots, doing damage to several buildings. The casualties reported there were two killed and two wounded. At all these places there was an entire absence of panic, and the demeanor of the people was everything that could be desired."

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(9:22 p.m.)—The following is the official press bureau's statement on the German attack on the English coast:

"This morning a German cruiser force made a demonstration upon the Yorkshire coast in the course of which they shelled Hartlepool, Whitby and Scarborough. A number of their fastest ships were employed for this purpose and they remained about an hour on the coast."

"They were engaged by patrol vessels on the spot. As soon as the presence of the enemy was reported a British patrolling squadron endeavored to cut them off. On sighting the British vessels the Germans retired at full speed, and, favored by the heavy fog, succeeded in making good their escape. The losses on both sides were small."

The Admiralty take the opportunity of pointing out that demonstrations of this character against undefended towns or commercial ports, though not difficult to accomplish, prove that a certain amount of risk is accepted, and are devoid of military significance. They may cause some damage to private property, which is much to be regretted; modify the general naval policy which is being pursued."

Keen in Disappointment

The German attack on the English coast has caused a wave of anger in England. Many residents at breakfast when the attack was begun. Rumors that two German cruisers were sunk were not confirmed. Keen in disappointment that the enemy has eluded pursuit.

CLOSE CALL FOR CUNARD LINER TRANSYLVANIA

Two Mines Explode 25 Feet in Front of the Steamer's
Bow

SHIP LIFTED SEVERAL FEET OUT OF WATER

Mines Dashed Together in Storm
— Accident Occurred on the Morning of December 6

New York, Dec. 16.—The big Cunard liner Transylvania, in today from Liverpool with 248 passengers, had a narrow escape from destruction by a mine at four o'clock on the morning of December 6. During a storm off the north coast of Ireland, two mines were dashed together, 25 feet off the steamer's bow. A fragment of steel from one of the mines shot across the deck of the liner and went away part of the mullin. It then fell on the deck and was picked up by one of the passengers.

The force of the explosion, it was said, lifted the bow of the Transylvania several feet out of the water. The Transylvania left Liverpool at five o'clock in the afternoon of December 6. During the night the steamer ran into a heavy storm and many of the passengers were awakened by the tossing of the ship. A few minutes after four o'clock in the morning a terrific explosion caused the ship to tremble from bow to stern. The passengers rushed on deck.

Officers told the passengers that nothing had happened, that what they had heard was a thunderclap. Then the passengers found the space that had been torn out of the deck railing and one of them picked up a fragment of the mine that had caused the damage.

Among the passengers was Sir Charles Allen, chairman of the British prisoners of war committee. Sir Charles said he came to America to try to have a committee of American and other neutrals appointed to investigate conditions and surroundings of British, French and Italian prisoners in German detention camps and military prisons. The committee, he said, proposed that remedial measures should be taken.

SENATOR JAFFRAY DEAD AT TORONTO

President of Imperial Bank and
Toronto Globe, Passes Away
After Brief Illness

Toronto, Dec. 16.—Hon. Robert Jaffray, senator of Canada, president of the Globe, recently elected president of the Imperial Bank and Toronto Globe, passed away at his late residence, 77 Grosvenor street, at four o'clock this morning, after a brief illness. Mr. Jaffray was in his 52nd year.

Mr. Jaffray was in his usual health on Friday last and during that night was taken ill. Doctors were summoned at once and relieved that the attack was so severe that the senator's many years, there were but slight chances for recovery. Everything possible was done to alleviate the trouble, but strength rapidly waned and the end came early this morning. The senator was on his knees at the bedside. At the bedside were his son, W. D. Jaffray, and Mr. W. G. Jaffray, (Glen Sound, and Mr. Wellington Cameron and Mr. Cameron.

Another son, Rev. Robert Jaffray, is a Presbyterian missionary at Wenchow, China, and he was informed by cable of his father's death. Arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been completed.

Hon. Robert Jaffray was born at Skeech, Hammondsburg, Scotland, January 27, 1852, being the son of William Jaffray and Margaret Heath. He was a high school graduate and his father where Robert Bruce had very largely formed the fortune of the overthrown family of the house. A stage coach accident when the son attended school in the winter of 1872, when he was fifteen, resulted in the death of his father. He was then sent down to Edinburgh to be a student. Mr. Jaffray, as an appropriate business, entered the service of J. & J. Fraser, a grocer, at the Scottish capital. Here he remained five years and then, in 1882, sailed for Canada. He went straight to the city of Toronto, where he had ever since resided.

J. H. Smith, who was at that time in business on a grocer and provision merchant at the corner of Yonge and Leslie streets, then the most northern store on Yonge street, was a brother-in-law of Mr. Jaffray, and his young relative was able immediately to get a position with him. As it proved, was destined to determine his career for many years. Mr. Smith's business and the years later he was taken into partnership. In 1885 Mr. Jaffray retired from the firm and Mr. Jaffray carried on the business alone.

Toronto was growing rapidly in those days, and the energy, shrewdness and enterprise of the young merchant brought their reward. He succeeded in building up in a few years a profitable business and about 1892, having then acquired numerous interests in a wider field he withdrew from the firm.

Among the many enterprises outside his own business with which Mr. Jaffray had become identified may be mentioned the Northern Railway Co., of which he was for several years a subsequently Mr. Jaffray was for a

WAR COSTING FRANCE

$200,000,000 MONTHLY.
PARIS, Dec. 16.—The cost of the war to France for the first six months in 1915 is officially figured at $1,195,888,573, or about $200,000,000 monthly. This total is in addition to the usual expenditures of the army, but it includes $101,400,000 allowed to the families of soldiers, $4,000,000 to persons out of employment, $10,000,000 for the maintenance of persons driven from their homes by the German invasion.

During the regime of the number of years a director of the National railway and had an active part in its reorganization and in the amalgamation of it with the Nipissing, Grand Junction, Victoria and Whitey and Port Hope, and the absorption of the whole of these into the Grand Trunk Railway.

It would be difficult to name the numerous railways, insurance companies, land corporations and other enterprises which during the last forty years or more have been in part directed by Mr. Jaffray, but the most important of his interests have undoubtedly been his long continued connection with the directors of the Dominion Bank, the Imperial Bank, The Toronto General Trust Corporation, The Canadian General Electric Co. and the Crown Trust Co.

Mr. Jaffray became director of the Globe in 1890, shortly before the death of his friend of many years, Hon. Geo. Brown. In 1893 James MacLennan, K.C., who had been president of the company being elected to the bench resigned his connection with the board and Mr. Jaffray succeeded him and has been president of the Globe from that date.

Mr. Jaffray's connection with the Imperial Bank of Canada dates from 1895 when he became a director. In 1896, in consequence of change of policy, Mr. Jaffray was chosen president on the death of D. R. Merritt, succeeding to the vice-presidency.

Mr. Jaffray had long been a valued worker in the interest of the Liberal party when he was called to the senate in 1906.

In relation, Senator Jaffray was a politician. The senator's wife died twelve years ago. He leaves four children: two sons and two daughters, namely William Gladstone, Robert A. M. Christopher Eaton and Mrs. Wellington Cameron.

Mr. Wilfrid T. Tribune.

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—A warning news of Senator Jaffray's death, expressed the keenest and deepest regret. "His death," he said, "is a great personal loss to me. I have known him for many years and I am admitted for his sterling qualities of head and heart have steadily increased with the proof of time. I regret his death, generous, unselfish, he ever commanded the esteem and confidence of all. He never did a selfish deed, he never sacrificed principle or expediency; he never served personal interests before those of his country. His far-reaching influence through the press of the Globe and through his various public positions has always been in accord with the best traditions of liberalism. He was a great benefactor, his Canadian Canadian can I am glad to lose him."

CONFIDENCE PREVAILS THROUGHOUT INDIA

Destruction of German Cruiser
Ender Has Greatly Assisted Trade.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—A special despatch from Delhi, India, says: "Reports which the government of India is receiving regularly from the province indicate that the internal situation continues satisfactory. Trade as a consequence of the destruction of the German cruiser Ender, is showing encouraging signs of recovery, and the tendency to withdraw savings bank deposits is decreasing."

A general feeling of confidence prevails. News of the British naval victory off the Falkland Islands has had an excellent effect. The prices of some commodities rise high, but power has been taken up ordinarily of the government to control them.

With rumors still circulating in the shape, such as that the king emperor has been captured by a Zepherus and that the Kaiser has appointed certain German judges to sit with the British judges in the trial of the German statesmen, the object of their declaration has every effort is being made to "wean" the credulous folk by the government of India and by the rulers of the native states.

French Attack On Right Wing

General Offensive Movement in to Alsace North From Belfort

Basel, Switzerland, Dec. 16.—Via Paris, Dec. 16.—The French army appear to have taken the offensive along the Swiss frontier, in connection with the Saint-Marie-Aux-Mines. Heavy artillery firing caused the windows to shatter in houses here by night and by day. The French have converted the Hun into a stronghold.

The movement reported from Basel apparently is in the nature of a general attack by French forces in Alsace as the frontiers which hostilities are said to have been undertaken in more than fifty miles long. It extends north and south, roughly paralleling the border of Alsace.

GERMAN RED CROSS SYSTEM OVERBURDENED

Number of Wounded in Past Two Months So Great as to Compel
Evacuation

Rotterdam, Dec. 16.—The Hamburger Fremden Blatt shows that the German Red Cross has been overburdened by the wounded that it has been called upon to deal with during the past two months of the war. It has issued an urgent appeal for aid on the lines of hospital in that town and states that at the present moment no more than 1500 wounded are being treated in Hamburg, notwithstanding the fact that numbers already have passed through the hospital.

SITUATION IN DUAL MONARCHY REACHES CRISIS

Internal Disorders Follow News of Defeat of Austrians by Serbians

PROTEST AGAINST WAR IS BEING CONDUCTED

At Budapest Angry Demonstrations Assume Character of Riot

BUDAPEST, Dec. 16.—According to reports from the Austrian frontier the situation in the dual monarchy is approaching what may be called a crisis.

These reports are worthy of credence. They set forth that following the news of the defeat inflicted on the Austrians by the Serbians, the situation became grave and was rendered more acute by internal disorders, especially at Vienna, Budapest and Prague.

At Vienna a large crowd gathered in the Ring Strasse and marched to the foreign office and the war office, the people calling loudly in protest against the war the news is being conducted.

At Prague there were demonstrations which assumed a separatist character, the sense that the Hungarians do not desire to see their own allied for German Slav interests and have not hesitated to express their views along this line.

At Budapest the demonstrations were more violent and almost general in character. The riot, the principal streets of the city had to be cleared by the police, and while attempting to make his way to the ministry of defence, the Austrian commander "Down with Habsburgs." Gen. Fiderich is one of the Austrian commanders.

Rome, Dec. 16.—2:35 p.m.—Particulars received here from Vah regarding the recent fighting in Serbia, emphasize what is termed the enormous defeat inflicted by Serbia on the Austrian army. More than two entire army corps are said to have been lost in dead, wounded and prisoners.

The soldiers captured include 5,000 Austrian soldiers of Italian nationality, whom Serbia is reported to be sending to Italy if the Italian authorities wish. Almost all these prisoners have been taken in the hands of the Serbians are heartrending. When taken prisoners, most of them, it is said, had been without food for from 48 to 72 hours, they say that many of their comrades died of exhaustion and cold.

GERMANY MUST SOON SUE FOR PEACE HE DECLARES

Head of Wall Street Journal, Returning From a Flying Visit to Europe, Says Her Resources Will Not Permit Continuation of War Through 1915

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Mr. Clarence W. Barron, head of the Wall Street Journal and the Boston News Bureau, who has made a flying visit to Europe to study the war and the financial situation, is returning on board the Lusitania, convinced that Germany must sue for peace very soon. Her resources, he believes, will not permit her to prosecute the war through 1915.

In an interview, Mr. Barron said: "England has undertaken the largest financial expenditure of any nation in the history of the world. Her consumption will come mostly in the form of money for the next hundred years. The Germans are most bitter against England, but after the war will learn that Great Britain is their best friend, for as the industries of England and Germany are supplemented to each other, it is British policy to see that industrial Germany is preserved."
